

Focus: Choosing a provider

It's important to have a trusting relationship with all of your providers — including physical, dental and mental health providers. A close relationship means your provider knows you and your health best, and you feel comfortable when you see them. Columbia Pacific CCO wants to help you build that relationship and find a provider who works best for you.

How to choose a provider

- ▶ Location: Are they near you?
- ▶ What makes you you: Will they understand the issues related to your race, gender, sexual orientation, religion, personal history, culture or whatever makes you unique?
- ▶ Language: Do they speak your language?
- ▶ Approach to care: Do they offer the services you want?

Building a relationship

In a good, close relationship with a provider:

- ▶ You can talk with your provider about personal things.
- ▶ You feel listened to and safe.
- ▶ You know that your provider will advocate for your unique needs and give you advice you can trust.

Switching providers

If you want to switch from one provider to another, that's okay.

When people talk about Medicaid in Oregon, you may hear them say a lot of different names or letters. That's because there are many organizations involved in making sure you get the care you deserve. How can you make sense of it all?

It helps to think of Medicaid in Oregon like a pyramid

Oregon Health Authority (OHA) runs the Medicaid program for the entire state of Oregon, which is called the Oregon Health Plan (OHP).

Columbia Pacific CCO is what's called a coordinated care organization (CCO). Oregon's CCOs exist to provide health insurance and much more. We look at the broad picture of your health and help with other services you wouldn't expect from a health care company. We also work with community partners to give you access to better health.

Your primary care provider (PCP) might be a doctor, a nurse practitioner, a physician's assistant or a naturopath. They coordinate your care with Columbia Pacific CCO and other medical team members like dentists, mental health providers, pharmacists and others.

Columbia Pacific CCO provides services like these for Medicaid (OHP) members:

- ▶ Physical health care
- ▶ Mental health care
